Current situation:

Third year PhD student in evolutionary ecology, affiliated with:

Muséum National d'Histoire Naturelle - Institut de Systématique, Evolution et Biodiversité

Collège de France - Centre Interdisciplinaire de Recherche en Biologie

Professional track:

2023 – 2025 Evolutionary ecology PhD candidate

Muséum National d'Histoire Naturelle - IDF/Paris (2023)

- Numerous extended field missions in neotropical primary forests (Amazon: French Guiana, Brazil; Mata Atlântica: Brazil), including temperature and light measurements.
- In vivo experiments and field sampling/identification of insects, characterization of the spatiotemporal distribution of multiple Morpho butterfly species.
- Several publications in high-impact scientific journals: the ecology journal OIKOS and the evolutionary ecology journal Journal of Evolutionary Ecology. Participation in national and international ecology conferences (CJCM, MMEE, EMPSEB).
- Elected to the Museum's Scientific Council as a member of the 3rd college for a three-year term.

2023 Research assistant in evolutionary ecology and modeling

Muséum National d'Histoire Naturelle - IDF/Paris (2023)

- Modeling population temporal activity to study a mechanism of speciation (allochrony).
- Fieldwork in French Guiana to conduct behavioral biology experiments.

2022 Research assistant in genetics and imaging

Université Louis-et-Maximilien - Bavière/Munich

- Development of a landmark recognition model for genetically modified fruit flies. Imaging and deep learning-based code (artificial intelligence, CNN, TensorFlow), as part of an international team.

Education:

2020 – 2023 Degree in Agricultural Engineering, major in Data Science

- Plant and animal biology, as well as bioinformatics and a specialization in data science.
- In-depth legal knowledge of ecology and environmental issues, as well as the study of environmental impact factors.
- Institut Agro Dijon, Bourgogne/Dijon*

2018 – 2020 Prep School for Biology, BCPST Track.

- In-depth knowledge of biology, geology, mathematics, and physics and chemistry.

Brittany/Rennes

2015 – 2018 Bachelor of Science, specializing in Life and Earth Sciences, International Chinese Program (OIB), with honors.

Lycée Émile Zola - Rennes

Skills :

Languages:

- High English proficiency (990/990 in TOEIC, C1-C2 level)
- Good Chinese proficiency (studied for 11 years, HSK4 obtained, B2 level)
- Basics of Spanish and Portuguese

Software/Programming languages:

- Windows, Linux
- Python 3.0, R 4.0, Matlab, SQL, Git, bash and shell
- QGIS
- Adobe Suite (Illustrator, Photoshop)
- Microsoft 365 Suite (Word, Excel, Power Point)

Social:

- Participated in workshops to share scientific findings with the general public (Science fair), frequent outreach and gave talks in conferences.
- Projects and collaborations with scientific illustrators from the École Estienne.
- Selected to teach at Sorbonne University; taught a course at the École Normale Supérieure (ENS) in Paris
